

CTSA CLINICAL AND TRANSLATIONAL SCIENCE AWARD

The CTSA Informatics and Workforce Development Cores announce

Travel Scholarships

to attend

the 5th Annual Conference on Clinical Terminology: Shock and Awe

DATE: September 7-8, 2016

LOCATION: Ramada Inn, Amherst, NY

Conference Information :

http://www.buffalocr.org/index.php/news/entries/national_ontology_meeting_hosted_by_ub_in_september_2016/

FOCUS OF THE MEETING

The meeting will address the reality and potential of Electronic Health Record technology and of terminology standards such as SNOMED CT. Do such standards enable translational science? Do they support or inhibit research reproducibility? What approaches to patient data are needed to realize the vision of interoperability and data compatibility across the CTSA consortium?

ABOUT THE SCHOLARSHIP

WHO CAN APPLY? Graduate students and early career researchers (maximum 5 years from PhD) who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents are invited to apply. Women, individuals from traditionally underrepresented ethnic, racial and cultural groups, individuals with disabilities and veterans are strongly encouraged to apply.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

WHAT'S AWARDED? Four scholarships of $500 each will be awarded. Recipients will have the opportunity to present at the meeting. Proof of U.S. citizenship or permanent residency will be required at the time of the award.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLY FOR TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIP: See the next page.
